Timetable of the regular elections into the Board of Researchers of the FAV

- September 29, 2020-October 23, 2020—submission of proposals for candidates (a proposal can be submitted by any FAV scientific and research staff member with the consent of the proposed candidate)
- By October 5, 2020—the dean’s office will publish on its office board an alphabetical list of eligible voters
- By October 18, 2020—possibility to submit a proposal to correct the list of eligible voters
- By October 19, 2020—the election commission shall set specific election dates (i.e. at least 2 consecutive working days in the week of November 2-8, 2020)
- By October 25, 2020—the dean decides on proposals to correct the list of eligible voters
- By October 26, 2020—the election commission shall publish the lists of candidates together with specific election dates and polling station locations
- Two consecutive days in the week of November 2-8, 2020—elections
- By November 15, 2020—the election commission shall announce the preliminary result of the election (the specific date of publication is hereinafter referred to as the PV date)
- within a week of the announcement of the preliminary results (i.e. by the date PV+7)—objections to the preliminary result of the elections (for the attention of the chairman of the election commission)
- within a week from the expiry of the deadline for filing objections (i.e. the date PV + 14) - the election commission will decide on the objections
- within two weeks from the expiry of the deadline for filing objections (i.e. the date PV + 21) - the election commission will announce the final results of the elections (by publishing the results on the FAV Official Board); by publishing the results, the election commission ceases to exist

In Pilsen, September 29, 2020

Ondřej Severa
Authorized person of the Board of Researchers FAV